Color System

Our brand thrives on simplicity — don't use more than three palette colors plus the hero color in a single design.

Usage Guidelines

● Magenta (Hero)

Use for logos, primary buttons, key highlights, and calls to action. This is the signature of the brand.

● Plum

Use for headings, dark backgrounds, and text on light surfaces. Provides depth and gravitas.

● Silver

Use for light, clean backgrounds and subtle UI containers. Pairs beautifully with Plum text.

● Mauve

Use as a bridge accent — section dividers, secondary buttons, chart fills, and illustrations.

● Dusty Rose

Use for tertiary elements — captions, borders, muted icons, and subtle supporting accents.

Key Rules

- Black is for the logo and body text only — never use it as a background fill.
- White makes a great background for long-form content but avoid it for hero graphics.
- When using 3+ supporting colors, Silver should always be one of them.
- Avoid using Magenta for body text — reserve it for emphasis and interactive elements.
- Always ensure sufficient contrast between text and background colors.

Typography Guidelines

- Headings
Use Helvetica Bold in Plum or White. Sizes 24–36pt for primary, 16–20pt for secondary.
- Body text
Use Helvetica Regular in Plum or Black. Size 10–12pt with comfortable line spacing.
- Emphasis
Use Bold weight for in-text emphasis. Use Magenta color sparingly for key labels only.
- Captions
Use Helvetica Regular in Dusty Rose or Mauve. Size 8–9pt.

Color Tints

Our brand colors look best at full saturation, but when necessary — for digital platforms, data visualization, and complex infographics — you can use these tints. Each color has nine tint levels.

Contrast & Accessibility

Always ensure sufficient contrast between text and background.
Below are recommended pairings for accessible, readable designs.

Plum on Silver

Excellent readability

White on Plum

High contrast, bold feel

White on Magenta

Hero CTA buttons

Plum on White

Default body text

Magenta on Plum

Accent highlights on dark

Plum on Dusty Rose

Soft, muted sections

Avoid These Combinations

- ✗ Magenta text on Silver — insufficient contrast for body text.
- ✗ Dusty Rose on Silver — both too light for readable pairing.
- ✗ Mauve text on Plum — dark-on-dark reduces legibility.
- ✗ Silver text on White — virtually invisible.
